Carmel provided top quality teaching and a platform for me to explore what I was interested in. My tutors provided me with the help I needed to move into further education and understand how I could make this step in the best way. Overall, I view my time at Carmel as a success and I enjoyed much of it due to the people who surrounded me.

"I am currently working at the Bank of England, more specifically in the Prudential Regulation Authority, focusing on fintech and emerging risk in the financial sector. I studied Maths and Stats at Durham University."
