Mental Health Practitioner

Class of 2020 Alumni

I really value my time at Carmel, I felt supported in reaching out for guidance to help me find the path I wanted to take beyond education.

"After Carmel, I went to study Educational Psychology at the University of Manchester, where I started to learn how to apply my psychology knowledge to real life settings and explored the importance of early experiences on young people's development.

After university I worked as a Mental Health Support Worker in a primary school, and then took a job in an inpatient service. These experiences led to my current job role as Assistant Education Mental Health Practitioner, where I work within schools to support young people by promoting whole school approaches to mental wellbeing."
